

Pennycress (Jenessa) (she/her)

Founded in Leeds in 2019 by Jenessa Williams, Pennycress is an anthology zine designed to champion and celebrate the work of creatives of colour who are based in the North of England.

I: @pennycress.zine

Michael Wiggan /0.08 Imprints

0.08 works with a range of emerging photographers from around the world. We design and publish projects that utilise the camera as a tool for investigation. Our mission is to be an accessible platform for photographers with any amount of experience to be able to submit and share work that is aesthetically conscientious, meaningful and curious.

I: @0.08imprints Web: 0.08imprints.co.uk

Zindabad/ Cia (she/Her)

Cia is a poet and producer who founded and edited Zindabad Zine, a London-based print mag for diaspora creatives across the world.

I: @zindabadzine web: zindabadzine.bigcartel.com

Kids of Colour

Kids of Colour is a project for young people of colour aged 24 and under to explore 'race', identity and culture. We create spaces that to challenge the racism that affects young people and their communities; building collective resistance and solidarity.

I: @kidsofcolourhq Web: kidsofcolour.com

Queer Muslims of Manchester

Manchester based group providing advice, support and information for Muslims who identify as LGBTQ+

I: @queermuslimsofmanchester Web: qmom.co.uk

Commonword

Commonword is a writing development organisation nurturing and supporting new writers, providing a springboard to literary success. We run creative writing workshops, events and publish a diverse range of voices through our imprint Crocus.

I: @cultureword Web: cultureword.org.uk

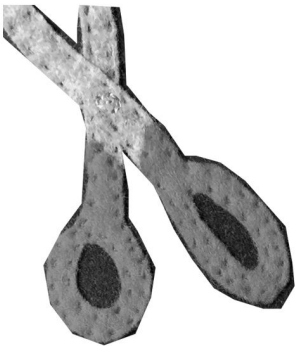

Jacq A (they /them)

I make zines on social justice issues such as bullying, racism in progressive spaces and ageing. I also make light hearted zines on Useless Advice, Swearing for fun and drunken bible stories!

I: @SoOverTheRainbow YT: @teammeteamus.8315

PROGRAMME

Hiya!

Welcome to Over Here Zine Fest 2023.
We're excited to see you.

Over Here Zine Fest is a not-for-profit event showcasing the work of Black/Asian/POC (people of colour)/Global Majority zine makers, artists, writers and activists.

Over Here is ran by Heena, Melissa & Seleena, three people from the Global Majority based in Manchester who love zines.

Take a look inside and see what's on today!

overherezinefest.org
I:@OHzinefest

SUPPORT
CREATIVES OF COLOUR

Tiny Bell Studios (She/Her)

I create prints, stickers, zines and pins that are bubbly and sweet.
I: @tinybellstudios Web: leannerosebell.wixsite.com/portfolio

Dal Kular (She/Her)

Dal Kular is a writer, zinester and facilitator of creative and nature-allied writing arts for healing, liberation and joy. She loves making zines, botanical journals, is an allotment keeper and loves roaming the Peak District in her tiny campervan. She is based in Sheffield.

I: @dalkular Web: dalkular.com dalkular.substack.com

Mits Makes (she/her)

Mitra (Mits Makes) is a Malaysian multidisciplinary artist based in Edinburgh, passionate about creating small, quirky and colourful zines, just like her! Mits' zines are a medium of radical expression; they embrace and empower various themes including sexuality, disability and cultural heritage.

I: @mitsmakes Web: ko-fi.com/mitsmakes

Anuhya Saxena (she/Her)

I Am a Fashion Art Direction Student at Manchester Metropolitan University. Specialising in Photography. I produced Coconut Zine as a platform for British South Asian Young people to explore their dual identity as well as learn more about British South Asian history.

I: @coconut.zine

Riddhesh Ghadi

I make zines and posters that make an attempt at documenting lives of queer on daily basis.

I: @riddheshghadi

Sharp Txngue (she/her)

I am Olamide Florence Adeoye a queer, neurodivergent illustrator, comic artist and storyteller. My illustration practice is inspired in part by my love of cartoons, graphic novels and sitcoms. My stories centre and portray Black, queer and neurodivergent lives by showing the fun and silliness that exists and the deep ways in which we connect and build lives around one another.

I: @sharptxngue

Safrana Art (She/Her)

My Zines are an extension of my sketchbook - pattern and illustration heavy - themes include mental health, plant affirmations, hairy diaries and the confusions I come across when I tell people I'm an Indian Muslim.

I: @safranaart

Heena (she/her)

Heena thinks a lot about queerness, cats, race, gender, cycling, food, prisons, the charity sector and Manchester. Getting some of this into zines helps.

I: @heenacolada

Glorious Reads (she/her)

We're a family of readers celebrating inclusive children's books. We write zines about books we're obsessed with, Black culture, and all things creative. We also make illustrated products for book lovers.

I: @gloriousreads

Skate or Sew (She/her)

I'm from Kettering, east Midlands. I skateboard, make zines, and crafty bits. Current obsession is working with clay.

I: @skateorsew

Melissa (she/her)

Zines about pop culture, crushes, and generally just loving stuff.

Seleena Laverne Daye (she/her)

Seleena has been making zines for over 20 years. Her zines are mostly about race, class, queerness, fandom and crisps!

I: @seelenalavernedaye web: seelenalavernedaye.co.uk

Skear Zines

Skear Zines responds to the writers we work with. It aims to resist homogenisation, and celebrate querenesse. It wants to give space to those voices that might not fit into traditional publishing models, voices that have been sidelined or as yet unheard, voices that have small (yet big) things to say, voices that will sing in unconventional forms.

skearzines.wordpress.com

Reina (She/Her)

A Japanese woman who makes zines about her heritage and culture, as well as film photography.

I: @reina.kos

Yamahighway (they/them)

yamahighway is a duo artist group, our works inspired by the essence of spaces and events we experienced. We do prints, zines, small crafts and so on!

I: @yamahighway

WORKSHOPS

Peculiar Portraits

Alison Erika Forde (and family) (she/her)

11-12

Let your imagination flow and your silly side show, creating mixed media Peculiar Portraits from all sorts of collage papers and stamps!

All ages (under 12 accompanied by an adult)

Capacity 16

Alison Erika Forde is a visual artist/maker/painter exploring her mixed heritage, motherhood, class, the male gaze and northern-ness through art and zines.

Mindfulness & Poetry

Radhaika Kapur (she/her)

12.30-1.30

A relaxed workshop where you can participate in 2 grounding exercises, read inspiring poetry exploring the senses and write your own short piece about a vivid memory.

Age 14+

capacity 7

Radhaika Kapur is a poet, facilitator and communications specialist based in Manchester. She has been writing and performing for over 10 years. In July 2023 Radhaika completed the Breathworks Mindfulness Champions course and is enthusiastic about sharing this practice with others.

Protest Poster making

Dal Kalur & PHM

2.00-3.15

Come and have a sneak peak at some protest posters in the People's History Museum collection ahead of a Poster Exhibition next year. Discuss the posters and the techniques used to make them, before designing your own protest poster.

Age 14+

Capacity 16

(mentions of colonialism and racism within the posters)

ALL WORKSHOPS ARE FREE TO ATTEND. FIRST COME FIRST SERVED BASIS
PRIORITY WILL BE FOR ATTENDEES WHO ARE FROM THE GLOBAL MAJORITY

FLOORPLAN

1. Over Here Zine Fest welcome table
2. Communal Table
3. Heena
4. Glorious Reads
5. Skate or Sew
6. Melissa
7. Seleena Laverne Daye
8. Skear Zines
9. Reina
10. Tiny Bell Studios
11. Yamahighway
12. Dal Kular
13. Mits Makes
14. Anuhya
15. Riddesh Ghadi
16. Sharp Txngue
17. Safrana Art
18. Pennycress
19. 0.08 Imprints
20. Zindabad
21. Kids of Colour
22. Queer Muslims of Manchester
23. Commonword
24. Jacq A

25. Drop in one page zine making and colouring in 11am-3pm (All Ages)
26. Pull up a chair and peruse the zine library.
27. Workshop sign up table